It is not a simple change,
but a kind of evolvment...

Evolution or degeneration?
The lifting function of Iwork is a complete change of hard and fast work, through which you can change your posture while working and feel comfortable and relaxed. It is a change from passive health into positive health.
It is the design motivity of Iwork to regress to nature and health and continue the miracle evolvement.

It is not a simple change,
but a kind of evolvment...

It needs only 10.4 seconds to lift from 750mm to 1200mm. Iwork is convenient, rapid and quiet, and it can be ready for the next work state in a second. As Iwork is convenient in rapid lifting, it inspires us to change our posture while working and form a good work habit. You can stand or sit while working and time passes quickly for the shift and the work is over unconsciously. Iwork makes me love work...

SWANKY OFFICE FURNITURE

You cannot see any screw from the outside and all the lines have their reasons for being. Iwork follows the simple designing concept of UNIBODY, which introduces special bayonet connection approach inside and you cannot see any screw from the outside. It has no surplus parts and avoids unnecessary production and installation process. The service life of modern office furniture is determined by the ageing speed of appearance. The design of invisible screw prevents it from the damage of appearance of products in spite of repeated installation, which prolongs the service life and greatly reduces the cost of fixed investment invisibly.

Environmental protection is not a concept but an attitude and insistence from beginning to end. Iwork fully represents the environmental protection concept of Sunon in appearance design, material, production process, installation process and service life.

There are three memory buttons underneath the desktop, which can remember the height of desktop for different postures if they are pressed for seconds. The humanistic design is of great help to the change of working posture and it can release fatigue. It reflects the pursuance of perfect quality in all details, such as the integrate circuit, quite motor and touch screen drawer.

It is equipped with supervisor table with no lifting system, which provides you with more choices.

File storage system: With multi-option, turns the out-of-order into perfect one.
