Sirius

45 degree of aesthetics shows intelligence

The beauty of 45 degree is solid and permanent. The segmentation aesthetics is realized through processes and steps of crafts, it shows high demand of working environment and respect for human intelligence as well as delicate technology.

The design of Sirius meets modern working environment demand, not only tasteful but also human-caring. The basic function, modern appearance, and sedate color, every detail shows the confidence, calm, and wisdom of the leader.

Intelligence controls everything

User friendly is the basis of Sirius design; every detail shows the infinite satisfaction of all needs. The main desktop parallels side stage, which makes it possible for changing the working form freely. Side stage has electric lifting function, which meets the need of sitting and standing posture, as well as discussion situation. Make changes at work accordingly shows the intelligentization, functionalization, and flexibility of this office system, makes everything under control.

7-plus technology works for healthy working style

With the introduction of the eco-friendly 7-plus painting technology and the employment of aluminum alloy material, Sirius makes the whole space natural and ecological. The flip wire box of side cabinet works for safely wiring; the lifting function of side stage is available for 755mm-1105mm height adjustment.

Delicate crafts, considerate design

The office of modern managers gradually diversified, and Sirius meets all all-dimensional of need in office. For function, the side cabinet and drawers gives more space for personal stuffs; for design, the simple style looks neat, as well as makes it convenient for catching things.

The simple tea table with 45°angle of joint steel leg is exquisite and small, good for meeting guests temporarily.

Desks with all dimensions have large capacity knee space, all lead to comfortable sitting experience.

Customized accordingly

There are different dimensions of executive desks in Sirius series, meeting all kinds of demands of different kinds of spaces. The adding of cabinet makes the whole system more unified and complete.

Sirius also offers office solutions for small size office space. Matching the main desk with extension desk as well as the universal pedestal can make a simple executive working station. The drawers below desktop can strengthen the storage function of the main desk, things like car keys, pencils, paper, and etc. can be taken in.

All kinds of combination meet all kinds of need

The bevel design of meeting table and extension desk shows the flexibility and modularity. Except for the traditional combination, there are ring form and half closed form, helping to create a simple and effective space for decision-making.

The meeting system in ring form has large capacity knee space, works for people in different height, and makes it possible for personal belongings. Also, the system can be enlarged by adding the composite module.

By combining the composite module, the shape of meeting system can be as U shape and ring form. And there are a lot of options of dimensions.

The natural wood grain makes the meeting space looked fresh, helping to keep the effectiveness of the meeting.
